FACING DIRECTORS IN NEXT DECADE

PCHA Report Airs Proposed Service Plans

PATRICK J. NORTON

WAYNE—A fifth hospital, the problems of alcoholism and addiction, a centralized medical computer system, and the development of health care campuses at PCHA hospitals will be among many considerations facing the Authority's board of directors the next ten years.

Such projects are contained in a 77-page Proposed Service Plan developed over the past 17 months by the PCHA long Range Planning Committee.

Patrick J. Norton, chairman of the committee and vice chairman of the PCHA board, discussed the plan with this month's Operating Committee in preparation for presentation to the full board on June 18.

"The committee," said Norton, "over the past nearly year and a half not only wrestled with what PCHA would have to do to keep up with the demands of an expanding population, it also talked about and arrived at conclusions about new ways of providing comprehensive health care services."

FORMALLY THE Report states:

The Authority through its Long Range Planning Committee has been engaged in the process of reevaluating the current services and facilities and developing plans for future services and facilities."

Expanding and enlarging existing facilities at PCHA hospitals, according to Norton, are dictated by expected increase in population at 300,000 people in the PCHA Health care service area by 1920. This represents a total of 1¼ million people, 79 percent of whom will be in immediate PCHA hospital service areas.

Assuming that patients will continue to follow the national norm and spend an average of seven days in a hospital, the population increase in the Authority area will mean that PCHA hospitals must be prepared to handle an additional 96,000 patient days by 1975, an additional 146,000 patient days by 1980.

IN HIS analysis of the future demands for health care, Karl S. Klicka, M.D., PCHA Executive Director, elaborated on the implications of the additional patient day load.

"Modern hospital care is more than bed, board and nursing care," said Dr. Klicka.

"It involves such supportive services as x-ray, laboratory, rehabilitation, continuing and emergency care," he added. "You don't just add beds to keep up with the population explosion; you add ambulatory care services as well, particularly at a time when doctors are making increasing efforts to treat patients as outpatients rather than as patients in a bed."

"In short," concluded Dr. Klicka, "you have to make sure other services are able to support additional beds."

PCHA'S NEW Proposed Service Plan, therefore, outlines in detail all areas involved in the hospital care of patients. It also establishes a tentative time table for the implementation of expansions and innovations which within the next ten years PCHA directors will consider.

Specifically, by 1974 the Proposed Service Plan calls for completion of a central laundry facility; expansion of x-ray, laboratory and physical medicine at Annapolis and Outer Drive Hospitals; the development of an outpatient program for service to alcoholic patients; the initial work on a central computer system; implementation of affiliation with the new Eastern Michigan University School of Nursing; and exploration of mental health programs.

Voter approval of an additional four mill levy for one year for school operations in this year's school election will now permit school administration to initiate steps toward full restoration of all programs and services cut from the current budget, Robert L. McConeghy, school superintendent, reported.

The millage proposition was approved by a vote margin of 22 votes. The vote was 913 for the additional millage and 891 votes against.

WILLIAM JAKAD, assistant school superintendent, Monday issued in behalf of himself, school board members, superintendent and teaching staff and employes a big "thank you" to the school district's electorate. He said:

Township Police Forces Can Enforce State Laws

LANSING--A bill introduced by State Representative Edward E. Mahalak, (D-Romulus), to allow all townships to enforce state laws has been signed into law by Governor Wm. G. [illegible] it has become Act No. 17 of the Public Acts of 1969.

The Mahalak bill revises an earlier act which allows enforcement of state laws only by townships with population of at least 20,000 and a 15-man, fulltime police force.

"The old restriction eliminated all but a very few townships in the state," Mahalak said. "Where township police departments already exist it seemed a waste of manpower to require those officers to ignore violations of state law just because their departments were small or because the township did not have the required 20,000 residents."

HE ADDED, "This law will be a valuable asset to law enforcement in the State of Michigan.

"Some problems have already arisen in law enforcement because of those limitations," Mahalak said. "These small township police departments in most cases are just as competent as the 15-man departments, but are restricted in their authority. Often just because they are one or two men short of the requirements."

Police Chief Jacob J. Koch of Romulus when informed of the limitations of the earlier Bill initiated steps that resulted in the introduction by Mahalak of his Bill to revise and amend the earlier Bill.

FOR ELECTED OFFICIALS

Charter Commission Studying Salary Data

ROMULUS—Last Wednesday's meeting (June 11) of the Romulus Charter Commission centered around the setting of salaries for elected officials.

The two large areas of discussion were:

First that any raising of salaries for elected officials be placed on the ballot as a charter amendment to be passed or voted down by the electorate and second that salaries being raised be done so by ordinance by the council before a regular election of city officials.

Within 45 days after the publication of the ordinance passed by the council, a petition may be presented to the council protesting against such ordinance. Said petition shall contain the text of such ordinance and shall be signed by not less than six percent of the voters who voted in the last election for secretary of state.

SAID ORDINANCE shall thereon and thereby be suspended from operation and the Council shall immediately reconsider such ordinance.

If the ordinance is not repealed, the council shall submit the question of whether or not it shall become effective to a vote of the electors of the city.

Citizens would make known their wishes to members of the charter commission regarding the above question.

The commission voted to change its meetings to the first and third Wednesdays of the month, and meeting time from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. at the maximum.

Because of the holiday coming up, July meetings will be the second and fourth Wednesdays.

Citizens are invited to attend commission meetings, which are held in the Water Board Building, Shook and Bibbins Streets.

Urban Renewal Aide Calls For Citizens Participation

BY LEONARD FOLMAR
Urban Renewal Assistant

ROMULUS--The township of Romulus is growing, have you heard?

I'm sure you have, and its true, Romulus is growing by leaps and bounds. Its present population is estimated to be between 20 and 22 thousand, Five thousand more than in 1966 (17,000).

Physcially Romulus is growing, but a City is not only factories, houses and stores. There should be other elements as well.

People, it takes people to operate a city. We claim to want progress, but are unwilling to take an active part in any of its planning programs. We seem to be perfectly content to sit home and permit chaos to grow until it threatens to destroy us all.

WE CONTINUE to claim that they (our elected officials), are hampering the growth of our Township. "Our Township," doesn't that tell you something? If it is our Township, then the township officials mirror our desires. That is why it is so important that we take an active part in community activities.

We must assist those charged with the running of the Township by letting them know what it is that we, who live in the Township feel and think. They can not act in the best interest of the people, if the people don't let them know what their interests are.

Published in the Wayne-Beverly Bulletin and in this paper, is a list of meeting dates of community organizations, presently functioning and township boards and commissions.

I implore you to attend these meetings and take an active part. It is the people that builds strong healthy cities without them a City will shrivel and die.

AWAIT GOVERNOR'S SIGNATURE

Mahalak Reports From Lansing on School Aid

State Representative Edward E. Mahalak (D) Romulus reports from Lansing that the school aid bill now approved by both houses of the Legislature and ready for the Governor's signature, will supply need financial relief to the Huron, Van Buren and Airport School District.

Mahalak had insisted on a school aid bill amendment which would grant special assistance for the three districts to cover the burden of additional pupils from the dissolved Sumpter School District.

The amendment as adopted is as follows: "Sec. 18A. (1) WHENEVER A SCHOOL DISTRICT, IN WHOLE OR IN PART, WAS ATTACHED TO ANOTHER DISTRICT PRIOR TO JAN. 1, 1969, AS AUTHORIZED BY ACT NO. 239 OF THE PUBLIC ACTS OF 1967, AS AMENDED, BEING SECTIONS 388.711 TO 388.720A OF THE COMPILED LAWS OF 1948, THE AMOUNT OF STATE AID TO BE PAID IN THE YEAR 1969-70 TO THE DISTRICT TO WHICH TERRITORY WAS ATTACHED SHALL BE INCREASED BY $200 PER PUPIL ADDED AS A RESULT OF SUCH ATTACHMENT IN THE YEAR 1968-69 FOR THE PURPOSE OF BRINGING ABOUT UNIFORMITY OF EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY FOR ALL THE PUPILS OF THE DISTRICT.

THE NUMBER OF STUDENT RESIDENTS OF THE ATTACHED AREAS AND COUNTED AS RESIDENT STUDENTS ON SEPT. 27, 1968 SHALL SERVE AS THE BASIS FOR THE PAYMENT OF THESE FUNDS.

"Based on the figures I have on the number of pupils each received from the Sumpter school system," Mahalak reported, "Van Buren should receive $95,400 in special aid, Airport $50,000 and Huron $28,600. This assistance is badly needed. The state had a responsibility to provide it."

ANOTHER SECTION reads: "(5) PRIOR TO MARCH 1 EACH YEAR, THE DEPARTMENT OF TREASURY SHALL CONDUCT AN AUDIT TO COVER ALL PAST AND FUTURE FINANCIAL COSTS TO THE RECEIVING DISTRICTS AS A RESULT OF ACTION TAKEN UNDER ACT NO. 239 OF THE PUBLIC ACTS OF 1967, AS AMENDED, AND REPORT TO THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION.

THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION SHALL MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS TO THE LEGISLATURE BY MARCH 30 OF EACH YEAR CONCERNING THE ADDITIONAL PAST AND FUTURE FINANCIAL COSTS TO THE RECEIVING DISTRICTS UNDER ACT NO. 239 OF THE PUBLIC ACTS OF 1967, AS AMENDED."

Mahalak said, "I will be closely working with these school [illegible] compliance with the intent of the Legislature under Paragraph (5), Section 18A."

In addition to the immediate payments, the amendment will also provide for a yearly audit of the three districts and other similar receiving districts in the state to determine their continuing costs from the dissolved districts. Based on that audit, the State Department of Education will make recommendations to the Legislature on needed additional financial aid.

THE AMENDMENT followed lines recommended by the State Board of Education. "Those recommendations," Mahalak said, "merely recognize the state's financial obligations to those school districts which were forced to take over dissolved districts."

He pointed out that the districts which took over the responsibilities of the Sumpter school system already carry some of the heaviest tax burdens in the state. "It would be unfair to ask them to accept still more of a local financial burden because they have been, under a state order, forced to accept still more pupils from a dissolved district.

"There are a number of features still in the bill that will be of particular aid to this district," he said. "It will mean an increase in per pupil state aid for schools in the district." These were not changed during any conference debates. "The school aid bill was, after a week's debate in conference was sent back to the Senate and House for final approval. "There were many amendments and much argument during the joint conference meetings," Mahalak stated. "There were those who objected to any compromise and voted against it because they did not like some of the features. This, of course, it their right. "Every effort was made to make the school aid bill fair and adequate," Mahalak said.

THE SCHOOL DISTRICTS needed to know how much and what type of state aid they can expect for next school year so that they can make plans for the [illegible]

Mahalak noted that a number of legislators have complained of "inadequacies" in the second conference report. "I cannot agree with this," he said. "To me the report was adequate. It does as much as the state is financially able to do." "I am especially pleased because it takes steps to relieve the financially pressed schools in the 38th District," Mahalak said.

The schools in the district under Senate Bill 101 will receive the following increases per child.

PCHA REPORT

1975 has been set as the target date for the completion of a new 300-bed hospital in Taylor. The report calls this project, "the major thrust by the Peoples Community Hospital Authority in the early 1970's." This fifth PCHA hospital unit will be built expandable to 400 beds by 1980.

ANOTHER MAJOR consideration for the middle 1970's will be a central laboratory to be built in conjunction with capital expansions at Annapolis or Taylor Hospitals.

By the end of 1980 the Proposed Service Plan projects that Outer Drive Hospital will be able to handle an additional 15,000 patient days; Annapolis, 29,000 patient days; and Beyer Memorial Hospital, an additional 10,000 patient days.

The PCHA long range plans envision co-operative programs with area high schools in training hospital technicians, hospital "campuses" where doctors may locate their offices, and an expansion of home care programs so that patients may receive continued care at a cost less than that required by hospitalization.

3 Bills Aiding Veterans Approved

Three veterans' bills supported by State Representative Edward E. Mahalak (D) Romulus have been passed by the House of Representatives and sent to the Senate. Mahalak introduced two of the bills and co-sponsored the third.

One of the bills broadens Michigan Veterans' Trust Fund assistance, a second clarified veterans' burial benefits and a third would make it unnecessary to have a World War I veteran on county soldiers' and sailors' relief commissions.

"I feel that all three bills are needed additions to present legislation for veterans," Mahalak said. "I hope that the Senate acts favorably on them so that they can be enacted into law as soon as possible."

Approved 94 to 3 in the House was a proposal which would make eligible for Veterans' Trust Fund assistance persons who served in the armed forced in areas of hazardous duty for which the armed forces expeditionary medal or a campaign medal was issued between Jan. 31, 1955 and Aug. 5, 1964.

The first date marks the end of eligibility for Korean conflict veterans, the second date the start of eligibility for Vietnam veterans.

THE EXISTING LAW limits eligibility to those who served in World War I, World War II and the Korean and Vietnam conflicts. "Between Korea and Vietnam," Mahalak said, "there were a number of times when American servicemen were called on to serve in dangerous areas. Because of this, they should rightfully be included in this act."

The bill which clarifies eligiblity for veterans' burial benefits was passed 58 to 15 in the House. The burial benefits are available at county expense to veterans, their wives or widows who have limited estates.

"The bill clearly specifies which veterans are eligible for these burial benefits," Mahalak explained. "If a veteran, his wife or widow are eligible, they should not be denied it because of confusion in the law."

The bill which would make it unnecessary for a World War I veteran to be on the county soldiers' relief commission won House approval by a 70 to 6 vote. The proposal would amend an existing law which requires that a World War I veteran be on the three-man commissions.

"MANY COUNTIES are having difficulty in finding a World War I veteran to serve on their soldiers' relief commissions," Mahalak pointed out. "Most World War I veterans are between 70 and 80 years old and are unable or uninterested in serving on the commission."

Under the Mahalak bill, a judge of probate could appoint a veteran from another war if there was no World War I veteran who was willing to serve.

Daly Precinct Voting Based on False Hopes

Westwood Community Schools might have been successful for their 10-mill bid, last week, if it hadn't been for the Daly precinct.

Voting was close in the other three Westwood precincts with the millage just winning in one and failing by small margins in the others. A victory in the Daly precinct might have meant success; but instead Daly voters turned down the millage 300 to 123.

There were probably several reasons for that overwhelming "no" vote. There are probably some people on pensions and fixed incomes in that precinct and one could certainly not blame them; but it is doubtful that there are any more of these people in the Daly precinct than there are in the other three.

There was some type of organized campaign against millage in that precinct, too, though what the grievances were is hard to say, since they didn't bother to make them known before election day.

Finally the Daly precinct includes those people who are seeking to annex themselves to the Crestwood School District. Doubtlessly these people voted against the millage based on the false hopes that they will soon be removed from the Westwood Community School District.

These people, we feel, are only fooling themselves. The State Board of Education is most unlikely to allow them to leave the Westwood District and annex to Crestwood. A decision like that would allow discontented parents all over the state to petition that their neighborhoods be removed from school districts they don't like for one reason or another.

Maybe they voted against the millage hoping that Westwood will go bankrupt and the district be re-organized. This, too, is faulty logic, because it takes agonizingly long years to effect a re-organization, as experiences in Nankin Mills show.

What these people are actually doing is cheating the children in the entire Westwood Community out of a decent education. We hope they can live with that on their consciences.

Post Office System Should Be Overhauled

President Nixon has announced that the only solution to the deterioration of the U.S. postal system is complete reorganization. The Post Office is expected to drain over $1 million from the national treasury this year to cover its deficit. And things are looking even grimmer for the future.

Nixon is asking Congress for legislation to convert the Post Office Department into a nonprofit, government owned corporation comparable to the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Export-Import Bank. This new corporation would be administered by a nine-man board of directors. The President would have the option of naming seven of the members with the remaining two named by the original seven members. Creation of the board would sever connections with the Cabinet, give it broad borrowing authority and authority to set postal rates and postal workers' wages, subject to Congressional approval.

We feel that this would be the best remedy for the already failing postal system. Based on performances of the TVA and the Export-Import bank, we see a road to recovery open to the system, albeit a long, narrow one. Swift, decisive action is required of Congress to implement this plan, or a similar plan, before the postal system becomes too ill to cure.

However, traditions die hard. Those who would oppose reorganization should consider their reasons for doing so. Perhaps postal rates would go up a few pennies. To the individual, this is nothing compared to the great savings to our national treasury. Why should we continue spending money maintaining an ailing Post Office Department when renovation will put it into a self-sustaining capacity?

In the words of Mr. Nixon, "... tradition is no substitute for performance..."

Vehicle Check A Smart Move

The Seventh Annual Vehicle Safety-Check Program staged recently in Wayne proved how successful a community project can be if it actually has the support of the community. The offer of free safety inspections brought hundreds of motorists to the inspection site.

Through the combined cooperation of students, police department and motorists, there is now a sizeable increase in the number of safety-tested vehicles on our highways. In addition to this, valuable practical experience was gained by the mechanic students who participated.

It was a program well worthwhile to all motorists and an excellent method of providing a public service in the interests of safety.

Take Heart, All You Duffers!

That strong breeze you felt Sunday afternoon was a collective sigh of relief from every duffer in town!

Paunchy Orville Moody, a sergeant in the U.S. Army 14 years, withstood the challenge of many famous golfers to win the U.S. Open in Houston, Texas, by one stroke.

Now, everyone who hacks around the fairways will rekindle dreams of copping the coveted cup that has eluded them all these years. Moody, the second Pudgy Orville in these parts to win acclaim, came out of nowhere to take the national title, and if he can do it, by golly, we all stand a chance! Born losers, take heart.

'If It Fitz...!'

25 Years and 70 Lbs. Later

By Jim Fitzgerald

I just got a dirty letter from Bill Ricketts. He said our high school class graduated 25 years ago this month and we should have a party. What a clown.

The first thing I did was subtract 1944 from 1969. Then I proved my answer by adding it to 1944. Then, for the first time, I looked at the numbers on my Playboy calendar to make sure it was 1969. I then phoned my mother to make sure it had been 1944.

But no matter what I did, it kept coming up 25. Ricketts is right. It would have been nice if he'd kept his mouth shut, but he is right.

It was just the other evening that my sweet 13 daughter said I wouldn't look so fat if I didn't have so many chins.

"I guess I eat too much," I admitted.

"Don't you swallow it?" she asked.

I AM NOT too keen on driving to Port Huron to parade my chins before St. Stephen Class of '44. No one will recognize me. When I was a high schooler, I was so skinny my shadow was embarrassed and kept falling behind me, trying to act as if it were with someone else. As a result, my shadow didn't graduate until 1946.

I remember lots of things about those skinny days . . .

There was the day Fred Ceglarek pushed me through a school window. We were brought before Father McCormick where, under pain of mortal sin, we promised to make restitution. I'll bet that bum Fred hasn't paid his half yet. Which makes two of us.

I remember handsome Bobby Patterson who wowed the girls and drove a new Buick in the 8th grade (I may have written that in the wrong order). He defected to military school for a couple of years but returned in time to get me in lots of trouble. Bob later taught at St. Stephen which was similar to making Al Capone warden of Alcatraz.

The graduating class president was Bill Hubbell. He was going to be a priest until he met a girl named Peaches, of all things. He married her. And, the way things are going these days, he may still become a priest. "Here comes Father Hubbell and Peaches." I like the sound of that.

I remember buying cigarets for a penny each at Grandma Abdou's store across the street. Her grandson Joe was a classmate, the toughest kid in the room. The last time I saw him he owned a bar and raced horses and was still single. It pays to be tough. Just ask us sissies.

I remember the place to meet your girlfriend after school was in the last pew of St. Stephen Church. The girl I met for years finally wised up and married a golf pro. They also tore down the church and any day now the Pope may announce that St. Stephen was a phony.

I remember how World War II changed the curriculum. A nun who used to teach literature was suddenly teaching aeronautics. She didn't know an airplane from a scooter but this was war.

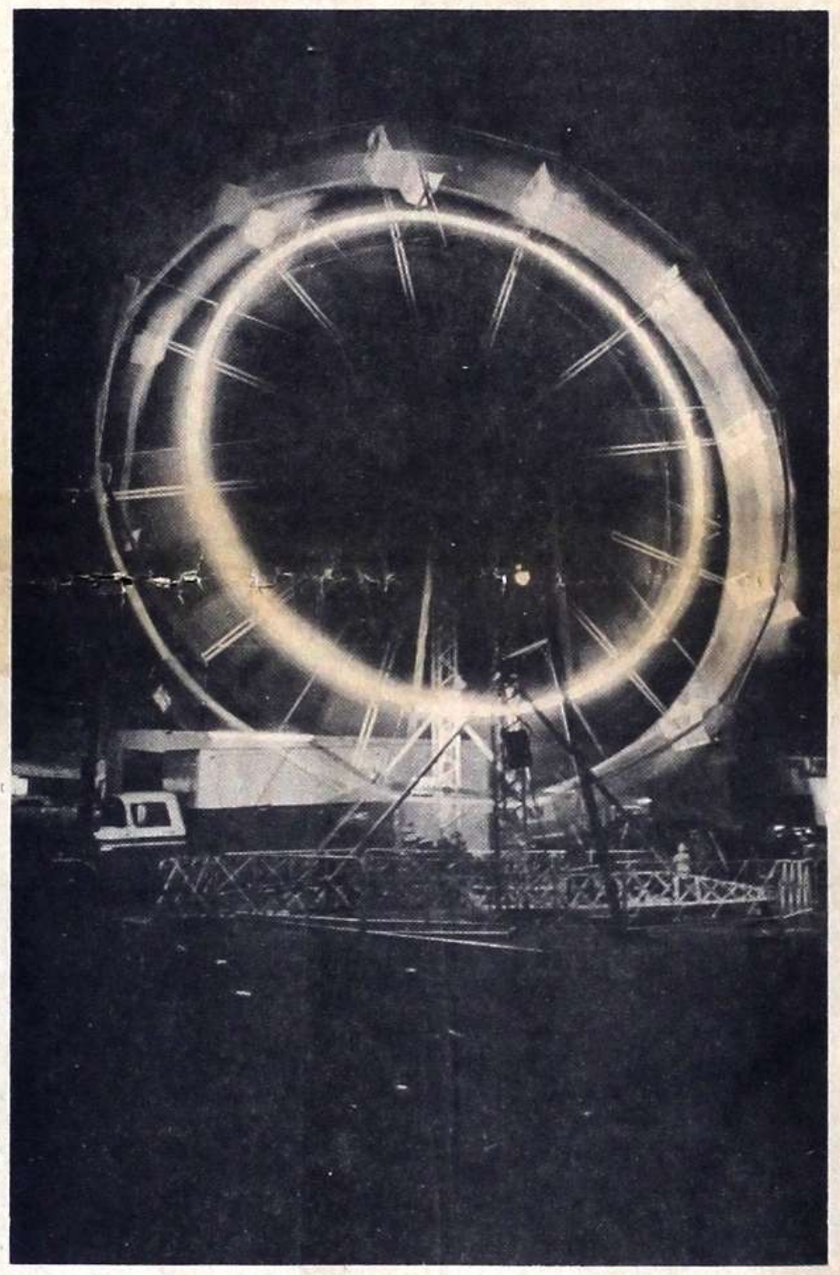

I remember a classmate named Tommy Knapp who didn't graduate. He dropped out early to join the army and, by commencement day, he was dead in Europe.

A war waited for most of the boys then. Now, 25 years later, another war waits for our sons. This is progress?

All hail the Class of '44. And do have another drink.

God Loves The Good Down Here

By Dick McKnight

God loves what's good in this world. I know it must be true. Two weeks ago I walked for the second time through the doors of the big, tired mansion that sits on a hill high above Lake St. Clair and calls itself the Academy of the Sacred Heart.

It was the day I gave my sister-in-law away in marriage and it was her day to revisit the school where she had spent 13 years being educated. Two years before, it had been my wife and I. Newly-married, she had walked from the aisle of that exquisitely peaceful convent chapel as the organ sounded majestically "Children of the Sacred Heart."

My wife had laughed because she remembered the first line of the old hymn was "When the battle rages fiercest . . .," and then we had recited a short and simple prayer together, that reminded us that we didn't belong just to each other.

Out of the corner of my eye, I can remember watching the shuffle-stepping sisters scurrying into the side pews to watch this ceremony they had seen so many of their "children" and their new husbands perform before.

And they had received us in the front room of that place, as big as a church itself, and each of them had come to greet us as the tinkling little signal bells called out the codes. The bells rang and the sound of swishing robes and small feet on the polished floors grew louder until all of them — perhaps 30 — had gathered around us.

"Hello, Mother. How are you, Mother. Oh, Mother, It's so good to see you," and it was like Christmas for my wife, and now this time for her sister.

Each of the sisters came forward to give her own personal best wishes. Even including Sister Smith, whose strong Irish brogue is dimmed only by her many years ... so many in fact, that my wife's mother, who would be 60, once was a kindergartner under Sister Smith's watchful eye.

It was Sister Smith, my wife says, who on St. Patrick's Day each year would pin a small piece of green ribbon beneath her white collar to flash quickly in celebration of the day whenever a daughter of Erin happened to pass.

They do things a little differently at the Academy of the Sacred Heart. After all, there has to be some reason why the girls who were educated there will make a visit to that beautiful chapel a highlight of their wedding day. It's not that there was so much open affection there — the rules were really quite strict. It's not that its students are puppets — creativity is fostered. And it's not that the school is so excellent — because it isn't just academics that are taught.

I think it is the faith that is there, mixed with an unmistakable air of dignity. When I suggested that the imminent closing of the school was averted only by good luck I was told, quite directly, "Oh, but it is the prayers that have done it. So many prayers have been said, we could not fail."

That is faith. And there is dignity instilled in each of the girls who is educated there — the school's motto describes it, "Noblese oblige," which means, "nobility requires it."

I have something of a firm belief that even if the Academy of the Sacred Heart does not stand on the lofty knoll forever, there will always be something special about that spot on this earth. Already now I have two memories of this place, and how many more must my wife and her sister have.

I could be cynical and say, like many would, that convents like this one are all the same, the atmosphere is artificially holy, and the sincerity forced, but I won't say that. This is a special place.

"Certainly, each of these girls are our children," the Reverend Mother said, "We welcome them into our home." God has made very few things in this world that are excellent and full of goodness. I have been privileged to have known one of them.

Reflections

A Memory on Graduation Day

By Joyce Hagelthorn

Last night I sat high on the bleachers and watched over 500 youngsters receive their diplomas. And as I watched the six-footer that belongs to me stride across the platform, resplendent in his long flowing robes with the hat perched high on his head...my heart leaped up and got all tangled up with my tonsils.

And I started remembering. I remembered the little boy whose voice was so mighty the foundation of the house was in danger of collapsing.

I remembered mostly the little boy who went to the schoolyard to play one day, and came home with a huge, shaggy, black dog. A strange affinity had sprung up between boy and dog, and the boy wouldn't shake the dog and the dog wouldn't shake the boy.

The evening they discovered each other was a traumatic experience for me...and for the kids' father.

As usual it had taken me almost 20 minutes to mop up the spilled water from the tub, wring out wet towels, vacuum up the sand, scrub the ring off the porcelain, and flush the toilet. Then I was prepared to kiss my little boy goodnight.

The light was off and he was snuggled down in his sheets. Leaning over I kissed the coldest nose I've ever kissed... and got a wet tongue in the face in response.

I almost jumped out of my skin. I pulled the covers back and there they were...my spot-cleaned kid...and the dirty, shaggy, big, black dog.

"Out," I shouted.

"But, Mama," my little fellow whimpered.

"Don't 'but Mama,' me," I said, and grabbed the dog by the nape of his neck. "C'mon out!"

That dog laid back and bared his fangs at me, and then growled a growl that sent me scurrying down the stairs ending with a mighty slide into the living room.

"I'll get that dog out," my kid's father shouted, and took the stairs four at a time. He strode into the bedroom, grabbed the dog...and the dog let him have it. With a lunge the animal heaved out of that bed, and stood on all fours, growling savagely.

"It won't hurt the boy to sleep with the dog," my courageous one said, as he scurried down the stairs and slid into the living room.

I remembered how my graduate used to instruct his little brother in everything. Best of all I remember overhearing him, as he sat on the basement stairs one cold, wintry evening, almost eight years old, solemnly explaining how God lives inside your skin and outside your skin...now and then jumping out just long enough for the devil to jump in.

"He does it," he said with a great deal of little boy sincerity, "so's you can feel how good it is to have God in your skin. Sometimes the devil doesn't want to get out, but God just goes 'whammo' and that old devil knows God's not foolin'."

I remembered...oh, how I remembered...and now that little boy hides in a young man's body...and his mother is trying to get the lumps untangled from her throat.

REFLECTIONS

Taken aback with awe and wonder with the majestic dawn to bud forth the day,
There dawns a different beauty, ironic
but true, in a land far away.

The land lays beseiged with decorum anew,
As uniform cladded bodies along the paths are strewn.

The sky echoes gray from the mortars and shells,
An unfailing, repetitious truth it seems to spell.

For lo and behold the new dawn may come
Yes, for us my friend each day rest assure,
But in that desolate land, it rises only for some.

DEATH

Death lies ahead for everyone,
If only I knew what comes after death,
I am afraid to think,
It is not for me to know,
I shall bide my time well,
Then when my time comes,
I will be ready for what lies ahead,
The thought of death terrifies me.
But I must accept it,
I will find out tomorrow,
What I am not to know today –

Give Them A Hand

Boypower '76" is the title of a new, long-range expansion plan adopted by the Boy Scouts of America. It will run until 1976, the 200th Anniversary of the founding of the U.S. as a nation. It is aimed to double Scout membership to some 6.5 million.

There was never a more important time in the history of our nation for young people to learn respect for law and order as the basis for their future rights, opportunities, obligations as citizens, and the perpetuation of the liberties they are privileged to enjoy.

Commenting on "Boypower '76," the Long Island Lighting Company in its company publication says: "The success of Scouting for boys of all ages is reflected in the enthusiasm and interest of the volunteer leader. He teaches ideals along with the skills, has a genuine interest in the program, and demonstrates that his great concern is in seeing boys grow."

Encouraging young men to work together, to strive for personal goals in citizenship, community service, vocational exploration, social skills, personal fitness and outdoor living, are the very foundation stones of a government under liberty and law.

The volunteer leaders in Scouting can render a service beyond price. They deserve our wholehearted support. They can help build respect for law and order and property rights that seems to be somehow lacking in our educational system.

Give "Boypower '76" a hand today, and the boys will be a steadying influence in our country tomorrow.

Letter Box

TO THE EDITOR:

On Sunday, June 1, 1969, we were on Middlebelt Road and our car was wrecked by a hit-and-run driver coming off of Bredow Road onto Middlebelt (my husband tried to avoid it and went way off to the shoulder of the road, but the other car kept coming).

My husband, our four children and myself were in the car, fortunately we were not hurt, but quite naturally we were a little shook up, to say the least:

The driver's side of our car was all damaged - $763.00 to be exact.

The couple in the car in back of us were alert saw it was to happen and got the hit-and-run car license number, and even turned and chased after it, but lost him due to his excessive rate of speed on Middlebelt Road.

I JUST want to publicly thank the couple who live on Sibley Road, New Boston, Huron Township for their most helpful and appreciated aid in giving us the information.

There is so much talk of people not wanting to get involved these days, and even though the hit-and-run driver didn't stop (wonder how he slept that night-perhaps questioning to himself as whether the children were hurt).

But with people like our witnesses it gives you back your faith in your fellow man.

MRS. DARRELL CASSELL

Tammy Tucker Is New Mrs. Cassell

Wearing a gown of white Chantilly lace and carrying a cascade arrangement of white and pink carnations and pink rose buds, Tamara Lynn Tucker approached the altar of the Free Methodist Church, Ypsilanti, to become the bride of Sergeant Darrell Cassell. Their May 31 ceremony was read by the Rev. David Krain before an altar adorned with two tall vases of white carnations and snap dragons amid lighted tapers.

Soloist for the ceremony was the bride's aunt, Arlene Tucker, who was accompanied at the organ by Marie Heaton.

Some 100 guests witnessed the nuptials which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Tucker, of 48653 Willis road, Belleville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cassell, of Inez, Kentucky.

Escorted to the altar by her father, Tammy appeared in a toe-touching creation styled with a jeweled square neckline and traditional long, fitted sleeves. Her hooped skirt was formed of four tiers of lace which cascaded into a chapel train at the back.

Her silk illusion veil which fell to elbow length was caught to a headdress of lace flowerettes studded with seed pearls.

PINK TAFFETA frocks were worn by the two attendants, Terri Tucker, who was her sister's maid of honor, and Deborah Cassell, who was bridesmaid at her brother's wedding. Their formal gowns were fashioned with fitted bodices, scooped necklines and long organdy sleeves. Full gathered skirts sashed in pink velvet fell from the high-rise waistlines and they wore large flat bows of organdy and taffeta in their hair. Completing their ensembles were bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Six-year old Anita Faye Cassell, in a short-sleeved version of the senior attendants' frocks, served as flowergirl at her brother's wedding. The basket she carried was filled with carnations.

Scott Knight, the bride's six-year old cousin, carried out the role of ringbearer.

Randall Bowling, the bridegroom's cousin from Ypsilanti, was best man. The corps of ushers included Keith Tucker, from Poneto, Indiana; Tony Knight, of Kalamazoo; and Jim Stewart, of Paw Paw, all cousins of the bride.

At the reception which followed in the church Fellowship Hall, Mrs. Tucker received in a two-piece beige brocade dress with a corsage of white carnations at the shoulder. A navy blue suit was the choice of Mrs. Cassell for her son's wedding. She, too, added white carnations to her outfit.

Tammy is a graduate of Belleville High School. Prior to her marriage she was employed at the White Hall Nursing Home, in Ann Arbor. Her husband graduated from Long Beach Polytechnic Senior High School. He later took correspondence courses from the University of Maryland majoring in psychology while serving with the U.S. Army. He served for 13 months in Korea and is presently assigned to Drill Sergeant's School at Fort Benning, Georgia, where he and his wife are now residing.

"Man's best friend is his dog!" This is quite true but especially in Central Italy where dogs are hounds specially trained to ferret out truffles, vegetables which are found underground, usually near the base of oak trees. A hound sniffs out truffles, much in demand in "haute cuisine," and on a good day can dig up for his master, about $30 worth of the vegetable. In Italy, "you ain't nothing but a hound dog" is a compliment if the hound's a truffle tracker!

Vases of white gladioli and chrysanthemums graced the altar of St. Anthony's Catholic Church as Nora Antoinetta Griffin and Larry Wayne Pearce exchanged wedding vows Friday, June 6. The Rev. John B. Rose presided at the double ring ceremony at six thirty in the evening with some 150 friends and relatives in attendance.

Michael Ives at the organ accompanied Mrs. Oliver Avery, soloist, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Ave Maria".

Nora, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Griffin, of 36 E. Columbia avenue, Belleville, was escorted to the sanctuary by her father. For her wedding day she donned a gown of organza and peau de soie with embroidered lace frosting the full-length skirt and high-necked bodice. The lace motif was also used to border the organza train which drifted to chapel length as she walked.

MR. AND MRS. LARRY W. PEARCE

An open pillbox of matching lace with sequin and pearl trim secured her silk illusion veil which fell to mid-back length and she held cascading white carnations and ivy centered with an orchid corsage.

AS HER SISTER'S maid of honor, Mary Griffin appeared in a formal gown of sunshine gold fashioned of rayon georgette over taffeta. The empire creation was designed with a sheath skirt and lace trimmed neckline. She, too, wore an open pillbox accented with lace and edged with a brief veil. Her colonial bouquet was comprised of yellow carnations on a gold velvet base.

Bridal attendants in identical ensembles of sapphire blue were Christine Hoeft and Denise Rouster, both friends of the bride since grade school; and Mrs. Kenneth Pearle, of Ann Arbor, sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

Eleven-year-old Paula Iott, daughter of the Cletus Iotts, of Ann Arbor, and Jennifer Marion, four, daughter of the Richard Marions, of Belleville, served as flowergirls. Their frocks were miniature versions of the honor maid's and their nosegays contained blue and white carnations.

Serving as ringbearer was the bridegroom's nine-year-old brother, Darrell Pearce.

THE BRIDEGROOM, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Pearce, of 30 Woodlawn, Ypsilanti, asked his brother, Kenneth Pearce, of Ann Arbor, to be best man. Escorts were Don Bivvins, of Garden City, and Henry Craft, of Ypsilanti. Ushers were Jeffrey Pearce, another brother of the bridegroom; and Richard Griffin, the bride's brother.

St. Anthony's School Hall was the setting for the reception which followed. Mrs. Griffin greeted guests in a mint green peau de soie dress trimmed with lace. Her accessories were in white and her corsage was of green carnations and miniature pink roses. For her son's wedding Mrs. Pearce chose a blue A-line frock with lace accents. Her accessories were in matching blue and she added a corsage of blue carnations and miniature pink roses to her dress.

Following a 10-day honeymoon to Niagara Falls and New York, the newlyweds took up residence in Wayne.

Nora graduated from Belleville High School and Virginia Farrell School of Cosmetology. She is currently working at Adam's Beauty Salon, Belleville. Presently employed by Michigan Bell Telephone at Wayne, her new husband graduated from Willow Run High School and served with the U.S. Army in Korea.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD J. SLIWA

Florida Honeymoon Follows Sliwa-Rafalski Ceremony

A two weeks honeymoon in Florida followed the May 24 wedding of Jan I. Rafalski and Richard J. Sliwa who were united in marriage at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Arrangements of white gladioli graced the altar as the Rev. John B. Rose read the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rafalski, of 18482 Martinsville road, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. John Sliwa, of 50400 Arkona road, Belleville, are parents of the young couple.

As the newlyweds left the church after their morning nuptials, they were surprised to find the transportation awaiting them was a horse and cart. Furnished by the bride's uncle, Walter Maciejewski, of Romulus, the young couple enjoyed a ride through Belleville before changing to a more modern vehicle.

WALKING TO the sanctuary with her father, Jan appeared in a full-length gown of silk organza. The Venise lace bodice was designed with a high neckline and full, sheer sleeves with the lace motif repeated at the wrist. A detachable chapel train added back interest to the creation.

A headpiece of matching Venise lace clasped her short bubble veil of silk illusion and she held a white glamellia bouquet.

The bridal coterie was headed by the bride's sister, Mrs. Faythe Schellenberger, of Belleville. Her yellow chiffon frock featured full-length sleeves with yellow and aqua trim at the wrist and neckline. She wore a matching headpiece and carried daisies tied with velvet ribbon.

Mrs. Connie Lambert, Susan Buck, and Rozanne Rafalski, a cousin, all from Belleville, served as bridesmaids. Their ensembles were identically styled in pale aqua.

Three-year old Heidi Schellenberger, daughter of the Jerry Schellenbergers, was the petite flowergirl at her aunt's wedding. Wearing a miniature frock identical to the honor matron's, she held a small bouquet of daisies.

Jerry Williams, the bridegroom's four-year old nephew, filled the role of ringbearer. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Williams.

THE DUTIES of best man were carried out by Joe Saksewski, of Belleville. Ushers were Ray Chudzinski, of Belleville; Tom Vedder, of Ypsilanti; and John Sliwa, Jr., brother of the bridegroom.

The bridegroom's mother wore a pale blue three-piece knit suit and matching accessories for the ceremony. Rhinestone-trimmed pink crepe was her choice for the evening. Both mothers added white gardenia corsages to their outfits.

Some 50 friends and relatives were on hand to greet the newlyweds who are now making their home at 375 N. Liberty street, Belleville.

Both Jan and Dick are graduates of Belleville High School. She is currently working for the Selective Service System, in Wayne, and he is employed at Star Tool and Die Company, Detroit.

Hope, Gleason Cut Up on Quo Vadis Screen

BY ALAN KROKER
ANP Amusement Critic

"Lovers," two one-act plays by Brian Friel at the Fisher, offer a warm, funny and wonderful look at Ireland, with Art Carney turning in the performance of his life as Andy, the central figure in the second play, "Losers."

Carney is courting a buxom Irish belle, Hanna, a slave to widowed mother who has taken to bed, pretending to be an invalid, forcing Andy to do his courting no further than the downstairs couch, subject to the imperious interruption of a summons from mama's bell.

The first play, "Winners," shares only its locale with the second. Mag and Joe are a young couple picnicking and dreaming about a not too bright future. She is pregnant and they must leave school, wed and live in a flat over the slaughterhouse while Joe abandons his dreams of teaching for a clerkship. But Friel cruelly considers them winners—for they will not suffer the future's indignities. As they revel in the beautiful day, Carney, a dispassionate narrator, tells us that they will be drowned that day.

The losers, Hanna and Joe, on the other hand, are condemned to live and marry, still tied to Hanna's mother. Hanna will no longer protest furiously; Joe will seek peace at any price.

Much of the warmth comes from the skill with which Friel mixes his quiet tragedy with high good humor, as in a brief moment of triumph for Andy when he comes home roaring drunk, waving the paper which announces that his mother-in-law's pet saint, has been discredited by the church. With a roar he leaps on the bed, driving her from the house.

The sense of authenticity is reinforced by restaging the Dublin Gate Theatre's original production with much of the Dublin cast.

THE WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY Bonstelle Theatre concluded its season last week with "Six Characters in Search of an Author," confirming suspicions that Pirandello is as hard to stage as a playwright can be. Pirandello reads well, but the prerequisite suspension of disbelief necessary to put him on the stage is asking a lot of audiences.

Italy's most controversial modern playwright, as always, toys with concepts of reality and illusion in efforts to show that they're practically the same thing. His medium in this case is a stage where six characters appear to a theatrical company seeking someone to stage their story. Their author gave them life but never committed them to paper and so they seek their own author.

Recognizing some of the problems, Wayne sought to update the script. This produced some curious results. In act one, for example, they sing "Age of Aquarium" from "Hair" and make a reference to "Hair." Yet in act two, when a character starts to undress, the director protests, "There are some things you can't do on the stage." The direction was spotty; the cast uneven.

MORE MEATY was the Eastern Michigan University Theatre production in Ypsilanti of Peter Shaffer's "The Royal Hunt of the Sun," a compelling study of Pizarro's expedition to Peru in search of gold, and his slaughter of the Inca chief, Atahuallpa, whom he had held prisoner and ransomed for gold.

It provides a curious struggle of unusual scope, for the play suggests that Pizarro became convinced of the deity of Atahaullpa and, like the Incas, believed that he would be summoned from the dead by the sun. When Pizarro's men finally killed the Inca, the lack of resurrection completes Pizarro's journey toward insanity.

Along the way, there is much interesting dialogue as two different cultures try to understand each other and fail, yet illumination is shed by the failure. Don Georgiana fares well as Pizarro.

THE DANGER ABOUT putting a Marquis chimp into a movie is that he's liable to steal it, even from such comic masters as Jackie Gleason and Bob Hope.

"In "How To Commit Marriage," Quo Vadis, others, Gleason turns up on the golf course with a chimp as his partner and bets Hope that the chimp can take the next hole from Hope. The chimp, obviously a student of Golfmanship, psychs Hope thoroughly, plays one shot from a tree and another by an impossible ricochet. Unnerved, Hope misses a one-inch putt. The entire scene carries an aura of wild improbability that was so familiar in Marx Brothers movies.

Hope and Gleason, even together, unfortunately, are not quite the Marx brothers. They merge wild farce and slick comedy and it doesn't always mix well although there are enough funny moments to make the thing worth while.

Hope is Frank Benson, a realtor married to Jane Wyman, and about to divorce. Gleason is a Reggie van Gleason III type, rock and roll king Oliver Poe, once victimized by a mud slide on property Benson sold him. When Poe's classical musician son becomes engaged to Benson's daughter, Poe breaks up the wedding by revealing that the Bensons are about to divorce.

Things get rather short on motivation at this point. Would a couple break up at the altar and decide to live in sin because they are disillusioned about marriage? Would Poe break up the marriage just to lure his son into a rock group? Would the couple, parents out of wedlock, give up their kid on the advice of a Far Eastern mystic who advocates peace through protein?

"How To Commit Marriage" is not necessarily how to commit cinematography, but it's still worth the trip.

Wayne Man Helps Form Concert Production Company

A young man from Wayne has joined with a musical friend to begin a concert production company and the result will be "A New World of Music," presented at Detroit's Ford Auditorium on Saturday, July 5, at 8 p.m.

Don Waisanen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilho Waisenen, 4487 Hubbard, Wayne, has studied voice at Detroit Conservatory of Music and has attended several colleges. Combining with Jerry Nelson, arranger and orchestra conductor, Don laid plans after a recording session in summer of 1968 to begin a series of concerts in the United States and abroad.

Waisanen, at ease in all forms of music, including opera or contemporary folk, began serious voice study at age 17. The next phase of his life took him to Minneapolis, Minn., where he attended MacPhail College of Music and North Central Bible College, studying under such notable professors as J. Phillip Gustafson and Oliver Mogck.

Don Waisanen

The concert will present three of Nelson's original compositions: "It All Depends," "Sing A New Song," and "God of Miracles." The musical scores for the entire program are from Nelson's pen, either as originals or an arrangement.

Joining Waisanen and Nelson will be three outstanding singing groups. Eddie Reece and the Hymntime Singers, The Gamble Folk and The Jericho Brass will add their distinguished sounds to the program.

The Hymntime Singers, directed by their founder, Eddie Reece, are a group of college-age youths who have developed a wide variety of religious songs arranged to capture the attention and interest of contemporary youth. They make their headquarters in Harrisburg, Pa. and travel approximately 50-60 thousand miles a year, singing everywhere from college campus to concert hall.

An exciting trio of singers, Steven, Garry and his wife, Renee, comprise The Gamble Folk of Minneapolis, Minnesota. Besides singing, they have worked with youth in the inner-city, facing the problems of deliquent rebellion, drugs and social injustice. Their music rings loud and clear, challenging people throughout the nation with their spirited music.

Waisanen has sung on concert tours across America and Canada and will leave for London early this fall to record a new album with Nelson. While there they will be giving concerts in a number of European cities.

Tickets are available at Ford Auditorium box office, Hudson Stores, Grand Bible and Bookstore and Dickson's, or by writing Box 147, Wayne, Michigan.

COLLEGE YOUTH SING OUT! Surrounding their director, Eddie Reece, the well-known Hymntime Singers prepare for July 5 concert.

Hit Begins Run at the Fisher

"Plaza Suite," Neil Simon's long-run comedy hit will begin a six week engagement at the Fisher Theatre on Tuesday, June 17.

Starring Forrest Tucker and Betty Garrett, the play will be the final attraction on the current playgoer subscription series.

The play is now in its sixteenth month on Broadway and a highly successful London engagement recently opened.

Detroit will be on the beginning of a national tour, although two companies have played long engagements in Chicago and Los Angeles.

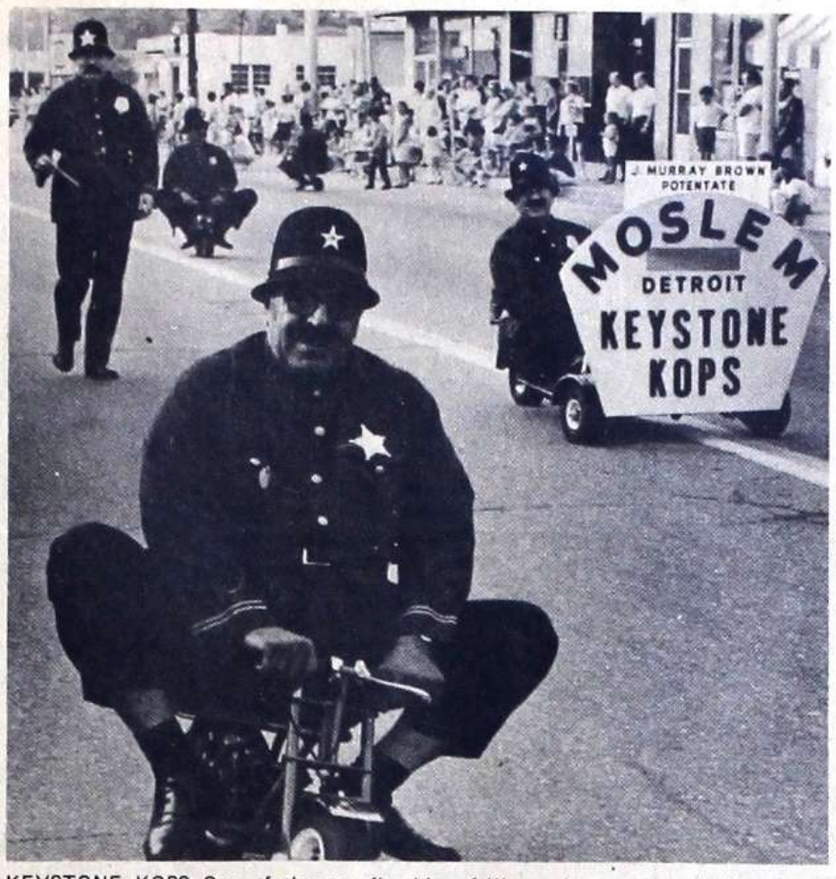

Forrest Tucker, the Music Man, is not a stranger to local audiences, having charmed theatre audiences with two long runs of the musical "The Music Man" at the Shubert and Riveria theatres in 1960-61.

His TV series, "F Troop," is still a popular show with television fans, and many of his early movies appear frequently on the late show.

Miss Garrett charmed Broadway in the musical revue "Call Me Mister" and has beencharming theatre audiences ever since. Recently she completed a long run in "Cactus Flower" with her husband Larry Parks and went immediately into the present show.

"Plaza Suite" is really three Neil Simon plays, for it tells about the people and action going on in a suite at New Yrok's Plaza Hotel. Each charade is different and funnier than the one preceding it and the amusing charades provide marvelous acting opportunities for the two stars.

Besides the usual performance schedule, there will be a special summer matinee on Sunday, June 22,

KEYSTONE KOPS--One of the sure-fire hits of Wayne Jaycees Annual Homecoming Parade are the Keystone Kops. To the delight of many youngsters in the area, the Keystone Kops at this year's parade proved just as funny and remarkable as they have in the past.

Ford Rouge Tours

If you're Michigan-bound this summer, don't miss the marvels of auto manufacturing.

You won't--if you tour Ford Motor Company's world-famous Rouge manufacturing area in Dearborn, just 15 minutes from downtown Detroit.

You'll be among the predicted 100,000-plus summertime visitors to view the 1,200-acre Rouge, a unique industrial area which includes a wide range of the many steps in automobile manufacturing.

Last year, visitors came from every state and all U. S. possessions, as well as from a record-breaking 108 foreign countries. Japan, Germany and France contributed the largest numbers of foreign visitors.

During the tour of steel operations, visitors see glowing ingots of steel being rolled into bars and sheets for fabrication. In the Dearborn Stamping Plant,' they watch huge presses stamp out car roofs, fenders and side panels.

The final assembly tour dramatizes how, through careful planning and split-second timing, parts and sub-assemblies for all body styles meet on the final assembly line at just the right moment to make each Cougar or Mustang as ordered. By the time each car reaches the end of the 1,000-foot assembly line, more than 15,000 parts have been assembled and the finished automobile is driven away under its own power—at the rate of one car every 55 seconds.

Admission-free tours of the Rouge start every half-hour between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Mondays through Fridays, except for holidays. Tours begin in the visitors' reception lobby in the east concourse of the Ford Central Office Building, Michigan Avenue and Southfield Road, Dearborn.

Large groups are asked to make advance reservations for Rouge tours.

Horse Show

DETROIT--Michigan's 17th All-Morgan Horse Show featuring more than 300 of the finest park and pleasure Morgan Horses in the country will be held in the Michigan State Fair Coliseum in Detroit, July 12 and 13.

Governor William G. Milliken has proclaimed July 12 and 13, as Justin Morgan Horse Days in Michigan.

This spectacular show will have 70 classes and $2,100 in prize money for 600 participants ranging in age from three to 60 years. Besides Michigan, entries will come from a dozen States and Canada.

SHOW TIMES are Saturday at 8:00 a.m., 1:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. and Sunday at 9:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.

"At the Michigan All-Morgan Show, the public can see the Morgan Horse in every possible competition including in hand, English, western and fine harness," commented David Batton, of South Lyons, president of the Justin Morgan Horse Association.

"Morgan horses, as well as those of other fine breeds, have been increasing in popularity with thousands of people attending horse shows each week", Batton added.

The Morgan is the first all-American bred horse and was developed in this country in 1789 by Justin Morgan, a Vermont school teacher-farmer, from whom the breed derives its name.

Versatility is the prime feature of the strong but beautiful Morgans. For the past thirty years they have been the classic horses of the show ring in park and pleasure.

For the Morgan Show, Ed Earhart of Northville and Basil Hiner of Novi are co-chairmen.

Tickets are on sale through Morgan Horse Association Members, at Sears, The J. L. Hudson Ticket Centers, Grinnells, and through the General Motors Girl's Club.

Muzzle Loaders Festival To Start

Greenfield Village will be the site of an unusual assemblage of Indians, frontiersmen, soldiers from the Civil War--both Yankees and Rebels--and Minutemen on Saturday and Sunday, June 21 and 22. They'll be gathering there with their muzzle loading rifles, carbines, flintlocks and long rifles for the 15th annual Muzzle Loaders Festival.

Visitors to this year's Festival will find colorful costumes and fascinating displays, fast-march drilling and keen competition. The whole family will enjoy the demonstrations of gun making, powderhorn making and bullet molding.

A lively parade through the Village to the shooting area begins each day's activities. With banners and flags flying, the participants march briskly to the vivid beat of two military bands. Each is dressed in period costume appropriate to the weapon they will be shooting. The weapons and costumes range from the Revolutionary War to the Civil War eras.

On Saturday individual non-military shooters--women as well as men--compete. They shoot at various kinds of targets from various distances under the rules of the National Muzzle Loading Rifle Association. On Sunday the military units take over and shoot under the rules of the North-South Skirmish Association. The long lines of participants are an awesome sight as they take careful aim. Dense smoke often envelopes them when the charge explodes.

Between shooting relays on both days, special events enhance the matches. These include band concerts, costume judging and a special demonstration by the world-famous Zouaves from Jackson, Michigan.

Special demonstrations and exhibits are set up throughout the day's activities which run from 10:00 a.m. to 5 p.m. Visitors can see a Civil War Union camp site with a complete medical tent, and one of the largest displays of Remington guns known. They can watch craftsmen engraving guns or carving wood or doing scrimshaw work and, of course, they can tour the 100 historic buildings in Greenfield Village and see many craftsmen practicing their skills of an earlier day.

This will be the 15th annual Muzzle Loaders Festival at Greenfield Village. It is just one more way that the Village brings American history to life. The regular admission of $2 for adults and $1 for children over six includes all the special activities of the Festival.

Residents Reminded of Clean-up

ROMULUS—With only 10 days remaining in Romulus Township's Clean-Up-Month campaign, township administrative officials again urged residents to take advantage of the announced extra garbage and rubbish pickups.

Both Township Supervisor Roderick E. Smith and Township Clerk Alfred J. Perry expressed concern that some residents and areas of the township have neglected to make use of the annual clean-up campaign to dispose of their large discarded items and accumulated debris.

The extra pick-ups are being made on the regular weekly garbage and rubbish collection days.

Residents are asked to place at curbside the discarded items on the day prior or on days of regular pick-ups.

The township's current contract with the garbage and rubbish collector provides for the added pick-ups, Perry reported.

Although the clean-up drive is once a year, officials ask residents to cooperate in keeping the Township beautiful by constantly maintaining their premises in a spick-span condition.

State Consultant Evaluates VB Title 1 Project

BELLEVILLE—State Education Consultant, Clarence Wills, recently reviewed the Van Buren Title I Reading and Guidance Project which has been in effect in the elementary schools during the school year 1968-69, Mrs. Ella Woolery, Director of Elementary Reading Services and Title I, announced.

He visited class rooms and interviewed both teachers and Students concerning it.

Title I is a federally supported project in which funds are allocated to school systems to develop comprehensive educational programs for the benefit of local students.

THE PROJECT in Belleville centers around the development of Student Self-Responsibility which in turn leads to positive growth in reading, in self-concept and in social behavior.

The Title I Center and the teachers have enlisted the invaluable aid of parents in following through with this project. More than 120 parents responded and helped students in specially designed Home Reading Programs.

Wills comments concerning the Van Buren Title I project are summarized as follows:

"This school is to be commended for taking a relatively small Title I allocation and putting together a comprehensive compensatory project ... This is one of the finest comprehensive projects I have had the opportunity of visiting. They are doing more with a small allocation than many larger districts have been able to do with much more money!"

THE PERSONS responsible for the development of this project besides Mrs. Woolery, are:

Mrs. Leona Kozma, Title I Reading Consultant, Gary Gray, Title I Guidance Counselor and Miss Doreen Binder, principal of Quirk Road Elementary School.

Wills commended local officials for an outstanding performance in Title I Project.

SMILES OF APPRECIATION—Third grade students at Haggerty Road Elementary School take time out from the studies under the school system's Title I Program to offer appreciative smiles. Clarence Wills, state education consultant for State Title I Office, shown with the children, made a recent evaluation of the program and commended school authorities for the excellent program operation and results.

HAPPY FIFTH GRADERS—David Long, fifth grade teacher at Sumpter Elementary School (left) presents part of his class to State Education Consultant Clarence Wills, who recently inspected and evaluated the Title I Program at the school. FAUST LAUDS ACTION

4 School Districts in Sumpter Split Get Aid

WESTLAND—State Sen. William Faust (D-Westland), representing the 13th Senatorial District, has announced the appropriation of $250,000 by the Legislature for payments to the four school districts which absorbed the bankrupt Sumpter School District a year ago.

The appropriation, which is included in the elementary and secondary education aid bill for this year, will take the form of membership payments of $200 per pupil to the receiving districts.

Faust said the bill will mean total payments of about $95,000 to the Van Buren School District and $29,000 to the Huron School District, based upon State Department of Education figures.

ACCORDING TO the Department, Van Buren received 477 and Huron 143 of the 1,190 Sumpter students, with the rest going to the Airport and Lincoln school districts.

"I am happy that the state has shouldered its responsibility with regard to the Sumpter reorganization," Faust commented, "even though two sessions of the Legislature have been required to hammer out a settlement."

The Senator also praised Reps. Vincent J. Petipren (D-Westland), James T. Tierney (D-Garden City), Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus), Marvin R. Stempien (D-Livonia) and Richard A. Young (D-Dearborn Heights) for their help on the bill, which Gov. William Milliken has indicated that he will sign into law later this week.

ROMULUS PLACES 4 ON MYTHICAL TEAM

Paglia Leads All-Area Selections

If Romulus coach Lowell Johnson had to single out one reason why his Eagles stayed in the Twin Valley Conference title race this season, no doubt about it - he'd have to point the "guilty finger" at Rick Paglia.

Paglia, a slim six-foot, 160-pound righthander, proved to be the key to Romulus' winning season and the team's overall success in the 1969 campaign. In his eight appearances on the mound, the versatile senior chalked up six wins and two losses-one of those setbacks was registered in the Wyandotte Tournament.

Paglia makes his first appearance on the ASSOCIATED NEWSPAPERS' All-Area baseball team, selected by the ANP sports staff, in cooperation with the area coaches.

And because of their successful year, Romulus dominates this season's picks-capturing four of the nine positions. Also named to the mythical team were catcher Gary Gentle (Belleville); first baseman Brad Lyons (Livonia Franklin); second baseman Paul Seestedt (Romulus); shortshop Leon Janes (Romulus), third baseman Bob Briggs (John Glenn), and outfielders Bruce Bara (Belleville); Al Michling (Huron) and Ray Horn (Romulus).

All members of the ANP All-Area team also had the distinction of claiming similar honors in their respective conferences.

Paglia climaxed an outstanding prep career, winning letters also in football and basketball. As Coach Johnson's No. 1 hurler, Rick pitched 65 and one-thirds innings and fanned 72 and walked 32. He compiled a 1.61 ERA.

Gentle, eyed by almost every pro club, has been drafted to do the catching. He brings along to the All-Area team impressive credentials such as a .404 batting average.

A three year veteran of Coach Vitold Kaminskis' Tigers, Gary co-captained this season's team.

Franklin contributes Lyons for the first base chores and, aside from being one of the most consistent players on Coach Ron Hellier's team, he was one of the leading batters with a .321 average.

Brad, who also won letters

THE SPORTS MERIDIAN

By Tom Mooradian

This is the season, apparently, for "Good-Byes". That's about all I have been hearing all week long.

It started with departuring Robichaud athletic director, Jerry Summerhays, who trapped me on the phone and informed me that he and the Mrs. and his son are off to Rochester, Michigan where he has accepted a position with Adams Junior High School.

"I hate to say, 'Good-Bye' after all you and the paper have done for me," said the energetic coach, who lasted only one year as AD and baseball coach at Robichaud. "But I feel that there's an excellent future in Rochester and an outstanding sports program and I prefer to tie my future with it."

Then, there's no future at Robichaud?

Summerhays, of course, wouldn't comment on that but after the Westwood School District lost its millage bid, it's an accepted fact that there will be some radical cuts in programs — athletics and otherwise.

Summerhays had "two more hours to go before the van would pull him and the family out of their Dearborn Heights home and move them to their new challenge.

As yet, the athletic directorship at the Dearborn Heights high school is left vacant — and it appears it will gather a lot of cobwebs before a new occupant is found for the position.

Another familiar face in these parts is heading for greener acres. He's Larry Dunn, a graduate of St. Thomas High of Ann Arbor, who helped Coach Manny Lentine shape championship grid teams at St. Mary's a few years back.

LARRY DUNN

Dunn, one of the most successful coaches in the Little C Conference with the football teams he produced at Homer High, will try to duplicate his accomplishments at an even bigger high school — Romeo.

At Homer, Dunn's team compiled at 31-9-3 won-lost-tied record and that "ain't" bad in anyone's record books. He'll be moved up a class at Romeo, though, a school with approximately 850 population that competes in "B" competition.

ROMULUS SOFTBALL LEAGUE

3 Teams Tied for 1st

Hampered by rain, the Romulus Parks & Recreation Department finally got the go ahead from the weatherman last week and the Adult Softball League swung into action.

And in that first week, three teams-Beck Diamond Products, Anchor Block and WTA Engineers have survived two games to move to the top of the standings.

In one of the most exciting contests of the young season, Baum Funeral Home and 5 Points Bar fought it out for 11 innings without arriving at a decision. With the score tied at 11-all, darkness intervened and the two teams will have to go at it again at some later date.

The game was highlighted by the outstanding defensive play of Baum's Bruce Thompson who pulled down a couple of spectacular catches to shock his rivals.

In another Baum game, the WTA Engineers managed to slip by 10-9 for their second victory of the week.

Metro Radiator broke into the winning column for its first victory of the season at the 13-9 expense of Northline Service. Barry Jaynes hammered three hits and drove in three runs to spark the Metro attack.

Scores reported last week were: Beck 10, Motor City 6; Anchor Block 20, Walters 4; WTA Engineer 8, Metro Radiator 4; Gray 14, Northline Service 11; Baum 11, Five Points 11.

Scores for June 12 were as follows: Beck 16, Five Points 9; Anchor 12, Motor City 6; WTA 10, Baum 9; Walters 7, Gray 6; Metro Radiator 13, Northline 9.

Dollaway's 'Coach of the Year'

There's no doubt about it — many high school coaches would like to see their players mature and develop to the point where they are grabbed by professional clubs.

Cherry Hill's head baseball coach Jim Dollaway has had three such lads — pitchers Rick Young and Nick Ross and second baseman Gary Wilhelm — sign pro contracts.

Gary, the latest to sign, was picked up by the Montreal Expos last week and headed for the Rookie League in Florida.

But to Coach Dolloway, a veteran of a decade of diamond strategy at Cherry Hill, there is still another important and sometimes much more trying facet of the game.

"Beyond winning and losing, we coaches have the job of making a man of the boy who turns to his coachore often than to others, in many cases," he said.

"A boy is in school because he has to be but he plays baseball because he loves to and that makes a great difference. If we are able to channel the boys along the right line, then I feel we are doing our job," added Coach Dollaway.

As we all have to learn; it sometimes doesn't work out that way. But Dollaway has never given up trying.

And it's this constant drive to better his players not only with the fundamentals of the game, but with the fundamentals of life, that Jim has been able to produce some of the best ball players and teams in the area.

The Spartans, forced to a runnerup berth in the Tri-River Conference after Taylor Genter and Southgate wound up in a tie for first, compiled an admirable 14-4 record — the best record in the history of the 11 year old Inkster high school.

And the ASSOCIATED NEWSPAPERS are honored to select Coach Dollaway as their baseball "Coach of the Year".

With ath sort of record, there is little room for improvement, but there is little doubt that the Spartans won't improve next year. They have two top-notch pitchers, Pat Burke and Keith Cabanaw, to back up their words. Both hurlers are recent All-Area selections.

A graduate of Michigan State University where he earned his Bachelor of Science in Phisical Education, Dollaway is only a few hours away from completion of his masters which also is in physical education.

A native of Grand Rapids, Jim and his wife, Arlene, have three children Jill 5, Dianne 9, and Steve 10. The Dollaways make their home in Garden City.

Sports Meridian

Speaking of Lentine, that "Mr. Everything" is back in the hospital this week. He entered Annapolis for a check up and will be there for at least five days.

"Nothing serious," says the Mrs., "he's just playing it safe." With jargon like that, you know Mrs. Lentine is a coach's wife!

j Guess the Wayne Community Centennial, which Manny is the president and general chairman of, will have to do without his versatile talents for a couple of days.

If Belleville High sports rivals think they have seen the last of the "Baras" — they have another guess coming. There's still 13-year-old Kevin who's maturing into quite a ball player.

Kevin will follow in the footsteps of brothers Bruce, who this week was named to the ANP's All-Area baseball team, and his oldest brother, Allan, who had an exciting athletic career at Belleville and the University of Michigan.

Allan graduated in 1961 and signed with the Minnesota Twins. He won letters in football and baseball at U of M.

Of course — the three Bara boys take after their father, Ed, who not only played the game, but presently coaches the American Legion team in the Belleville area.

One of the most shocking "Goodbyes" of the week was that said by colleague Tom Isley, editor of the Wayne Eagle who also wrote our Outdoor News. He just popped into the room the other day, tapped me on the shoulder, and said, "this is it," and smiled, "Good-Bye".

Wonder who left him a million?!

Rhodin Blanks Jackson

After picking up a couple of victories on forfeits, American Legion Post 282, managed by Ed Nara, finally saw sports-rhode blanks jackson

After picking up a couple of victories on forfeits, American Legion Post 282, managed by Ed Nara, finally saw some action last week and won two games against Jackson Post 324.

In the opening game of the twin-bill, Steve Rhodin pitched a two-hitter and slammed two hits in blanking his rivals 8-0. Rhodin, brother of All-State cager, Bob, of Ypsilanti High fame, notched 11 strikeouts and walked two in his American Legion pitching debut.

Jim Horton, a recent draft choice of the Pirates, collected a pair of singles in three trips to the plate while Gary Blickey hammered a double for the winners.

In the nightcap, Tom Carpenter and Barby Derek teamed up for a six-hitter to nip Jackson 3-2. Rhodin again starred at the plate as he blasted a two-run single which made the difference.

Carpenter worked till the sixth when Derek was called upon for help.

in basketball, played in all 19 Franklin games and in the league he accumulated a .391 average.

Seestedt is making his second appearances in the line-up. A hefty slugger who accounted for 21 RBI's, Paul hammered five home runs to lead the team in that category. At bat 53 times in 16 games, the 17-year-old junior wound up with an .321 average and was flawless on defense.

Teammate Janes will be "in the hole" and brings to the team an .291 batting average. With plenty of potential to develop, Janes shows power at the plate as he blasted three round-trippers for the season and 16 hits, falling one short of the leader, Seestedt.

Rounding out the infield is Glenn's lone representative, Briggs, who "was the only bright spot" in a rather dismal season for Coach Norm Hoenes and his Rockets.'

Bara needs no introduction to the fans-not only has he been picked for three consecutive seasons to the All-Suburban Six Conference honorary team, but he also has made previous appearances to the ANP team. He batted a hefty .377 for the season to carry on in the Bara tradition.

Bruce's brother, Allan, also starred at Belleville High and his father, Ed, aside from being a sandlot star, now coaches American Legion baseball in the area.

Michling, also a holdover from last year's All-Area squad, ended three years of varsity baseball at Huron and, without doubt, was the best Coach Ron Smith had on the field.

The 18-year-old senior batted .375 in the newly organized Huron Conference and cracked 20 hits to keep the Chiefs alive in most of the games. Also a three-sports-man, Huron will miss this outstanding athlete when fall rolls around.

The third outfielder selected is Horn whose .431 batting average is tops for the area and second only to Cherry Hill's Gary Wilhelm's (who batted .465 this season). Ray's bat helped the Eagles to an 8-3 league record-which also included a victory over Ecorse, the 1969 champ.

Batting and throwing righthanded, Horn approached the plate 65 times and carved out 28 hits including 12 runs batted in and one home run.

Old Outdoors Writers Don't Die, They're on TV

Channel 7's "The Michigan Sportsman" with Jerry Chiapetta will feature the oldest group of outdoors writers in America and a film on the banding of woodcock Saturday, June 21 at 6:30 p.m.

Jerry will report on the Michigan Outdoor Writers 25th Anniversary meeting held recently in Blaney Park in the Upper Peninsula. These writers and editors have played an important role in the development of Michigan as the country's leading outdoors state.

A film on the banding of woodcock in Northern Michigan with the state's leading authority on woodcock and grouse, George Ammann, will also be shown.

The latest in outdoor news and equipment is a regular feature of the "Michigan Sportsman."

"The Michigan Sportsman" is a Circle 7 presentation with Mason Weaver as director. Executive producer for WXYZ-TV is Arno Marcaccio.

TOUGH SEASON AHEAD

Belleville-Van Buren Babe Ruth League Lists Sponsors

BELLEVILLE--The 1969 Belleville-Van Buren Babe Ruth Baseball Season has been underway for two weeks and it looks like a tough season ahead.

After watching each team on the field, competition is about equal throughout the league.

The 1969 Season has eight teams playing Babe Ruth Baseball. One team more than last year because of having more boys turn out for the tryouts this year. This also has changed the schedule from 18 games to a 14 game schedule this year.

THE LEAGUE is using the Belleville High School and Junior High School baseball diamonds. When the Junior High diamond is too wet to play on they use St. Anthony School's ball diamond., There's two games played every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights beginning at 5:30 p.m., leaving Friday, Saturday and Sunday if necessary for playing make-up games called on account of rain.

Starting this season all Babe Ruth Teams are known by the name of their sponsor. This is to give more recognition to the team sponsor for their support of the Belleville-Van Buren Babe Ruth Baseball program. Without their support there would not be a baseball program in this area at all.

This year's sponsors and team managers are:

ASTRAL REBEKAH LODGE No. 250, managed by Gerald Cole, assisted by James Deck.

ATCHINSON FORD SALES, managed by Steve McLaren, assisted by Bruce McLaren and Bob White.

CAMPBELL CONST, managed by John Fowler, assisted by Bud Susterka.

CLARK BLOCK AND SUPPLY, managed by Mike Inman, assisted by James Hampton.

ROBERTS BROS. FURNITURE, managed by Al Birk, assisted by Frank Shelp and Earl Farr.

POLISH NATIONAL ALLIANCE (P.N.A.) HALL, managed by Frank Reinhackel, Walt Skazek and Tom Wilkonson.

WALTER HINK, managed by Howard Nugent, assisted by Ray Suliman.

ODDFELLOW LODGE No. 384, managed by Audie Shelby, assisted by Tom Oliver and Don Vance.

This year Babe Ruth is using umpires from the Suburban Umpires Association.

The 1969 Belleville-Van Buren Babe Ruth League Board of Governors are:

Herbert Mida, president and treasurer; Stanley Silvenis, vice-president; Edward Sala, secretary; Frank Horton, member; Sam Villa, member.

The winner of the Belleville-Van Buren Babe Ruth League 50-50 Club Drawing held Saturday, June 7, between the double header ball games was Steve McLaren of 46570 Willis Road.

Lucky ticket was No. 1013 for $331.

Belleville-Van Buren Babe Ruth League Team Standings are as of June 15.

League Candy Sale Now Underway

ROMULUS--The Romulus Little League Baseball candy sale is now in progress and the sale is going particularly well, candy sale leaders reported.

This year, the Little League received a financial boost from the Township Recreation Commission, but in the future this program must be self-sustaining, this is the purpose of the candy sale.

Jack Bosworth, the candy chairman, says that he hopes to see a profit of approximately $7,500. Out of these profits each boy who sold 48 boxes of candy will receive a jacket.

Community response to the youngsters, 8-14 years of age has been outstanding.

ANYONE WHO hasn't been approached and wishes to purchase candy from a Little League boy may contact Jack Bosworth at 941-1063 and some one will be in touch with you.

The first game of the season started for Little League Monday, June 9, when the first ball of the official season was pitched by Marie Debuysscher, a member of the Little League Committee.

Due to wet fields at the Senior High School, all Pee Wee and Pony League games were called. The Intermediate games scheduled at the Junior High fields proceeded as planned.

Parents are invited to come out and see their sons play ball. Anyone wishing to see an exciting game is invited to attend. Show your boys that you are behind them come and cheer them on.

346 Girl Scouts Share In Week-end Encampment

BELLEVILLE--The old song says "We're singing in the rain" and that is just what 346 Girl Scouts did last week-end. The occasion was the Southern Wayne Association area encampment.

Scouts from Belleville, Romulus, New Boston, Huron Township and Flat Rock responded to the call of "let's go camping".

The site was the state park group camp site at Big Portage Lake just east of Jackson.

Plans for the first encampment of its kind held for Southern Wayne were co-ordinated by Mrs. Sue Thompson of Belleville; Mrs. Jean Savage, Mrs. Eleanor Parker both of Romulus and Senior Troop No. 345.

BASED ON the idea of making new friends, practice with charcoal fires and a chance to go swimming, the committee positioned troops next to troops from distant communities. Each troop provided its own identification such as painted shirts, novel hats, hand painted neckerchief, etc.

Girls experimented with cooking scalloped ham and potatoes in a pit surrounded by glowing charcoal; ice cream also fixed underground with hay for insulation.

Foil dinners of chops and corn or hamburger and potatoes were a favorite as was campfire stew and sloppy-joes. For breakfast pancakes, french toast and lots of bacon and eggs were made to order for most troops.

Examples of rope lashing, different types of housekeeping set-ups and various activities between meals and swimming were as varied as the number of troops.

PROVIDING A colorful display of tents were fifteen Junior Scout Troops, three Cadette Troops and one Senior Troop. A flag raising ceremony was held on a sunny Saturday morning but Saturday night found the girls around a huge campfire for a Sing-A-Long held in a steady rain.

A planned talk by the Park Naturalist on the stars was cancelled because of the weather but the spirit of the girls was never dampened. They expressed themselves in a rounding cheer and soundly proclaimed that they wanted to do it again.

Sunday found all troops breaking camp in the rain and even though quite damp talking about their experiences and thinking ahead to sunnier days and a chance to go group camping again.

THE ENCAMPMENT saw about one half of the registered troops attending the week-end event and with such enthusiastic response Southern Wayne Association Chairman Mrs. Dorothy Simons feels next year's turnout will be even greater.

Mrs. Simons said that the volunteer leaders, mothers and fathers who took time out to provide the scouts with a week-end of camping are to be congratulated. For in these days of working parents, and parents who do not want to become involved, over 300 girls found out that life in the out-of-doors is not only fun but gave them an opportunity to meet new people and practice their basic rules of helping other people, making new friends and obeying their Girl Scout Laws.

The Park Ranger praised the scouts for a clean and quiet camp and Huron Valley Girl Scout Council representative, Jo Stevens expressed wonder at the good spirits held by the girls who set up and broke camp in the rain.

Plans are already underway for next years area encampment.

Would you like to hear a good clean story?

It goes like this: Buy a new Gas range and forget about oven cleaning, forever. Not bad, huh? And that's not the whole story.

The new Gas self-cleaning oven will clean itself automatically, spotlessly and do the whole job for about 2¢. It's a new way of life for the housewife. No more rubber gloves, strong detergents or harsh cleaning agents.

And while we're on the subject, this new Gas range simply cooks food better than anything you've ever used. It provides complete heat control. At all times. No matter what you're cooking. It will cook faster. Cleaner. And do it all for less money. See the new Gas self-cleaning oven today at dealer or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showrooms. It's great for women who like to cook, period. Cook with Gas . . . it'll serve you right.

TO STUDY, EARN AND LEARN

Cooperative Occupational Training Program at BHS Provides Chance

BY DEAN PAYNE
and
MRS. JANET LENN
Co-ordinators

BELLEVILLE—Did you know that several members of Belleville's Business community were actively engaged in the teaching and training of 33 high school seniors?

This unique program, called Cooperative Occupational Training, or Co-op, is based on the theory that on-the-job training is more meaningful in certain areas of study than more traditional methods of "book learning."

Co-op students have a sincere interest in pursuing careers in retailing and office occupations, and who could better teach concepts of marketing, salesmanship, clerical procedures, etc., than our "downtown professors;" the men and women who engage in these activities each day.

THESE PEOPLE are the real experts in their fields, and they have agreed to give high school students a head start in the career of their choice.

The co-op program is more than just a part-time job. The work experience is supervised out of school by a co-op co-ordinator, and reinforced in school through a specialized class called Co-op Related. This class is taught by the coordinator, is designed to provide instruction that relates directly to the student's job.

For instance, one student employed in a small business office may need training in payroll, filing, and typing, while, someone else may wish to improve shorthand speed. A student employed as a stock boy may need additional help in pricing and display, while salesmanship is of interest to the girl employed in a large department store.

There are two areas of co-op training offered at the present time: Distributive Education and Office Occupations.

THIS COURSE tries to meet the needs of each student, and the teacher-coordinator can effectively bridge the gap between school and job by periodic visits to the training stations, and by frequent evaluations from both students and employers. One credit per year is given for the job experience, and one for the related class.

Distributive Education, or DE, is designed for students who are interested in the retail, wholesale, and service trades. This is the largest area which served 19 students.

Dean Payne is the teacher-coordinator, and has the responsibility of placing these students in a variety of retail jobs. Students and employers participating in this program were:

Denise Bailey, J.L. Hudson Co.; Gary Burchwell, Kroger; William Clark, Foodville; Judy Crawford, Lodge Lanes Snack Bar; Wendy Deming, Belvil Community Hospital; Melvin Dick, Hamilton Hardware; Timothy Fitzhugh, Suburban Imports, Inc.; Gale Folks, Foodville; Walter Green, Jr., Cunningham; Sherry Hoeft, Belvil Community Hospital; Judy Jenkins, K-Mart.

Derrick L. Kirby, Shell Service Station; Paulette McLaughlin, W.T. Grant (Skillet); Pete Mendis, Roberts Bros.; Karen Ann Oberdorf, K-Mart; Paul Peters, K-Mart; Laura Mae Rice, W.T. Grant Co., Debbie Skszek, Belvil Community Hospital. and Suzanna Warren, K-Mart.

IN THE Office Occupations area, students are employed in a variety of clerical operations, some doing highly-skilled secretarial work and others doing jobs of a more general nature.

Mrs. Janet Linn is the teacher-coordinator for the 14 girls and employers on this program. Participants are:

Sandra Armstrong, Dr. John MacDermid; Sharon Arrick, High School Office; Rita Mae Bogedain, Michigan Bell; Barbara Dobbins, High School Library; Delores Dowdy, Baldwin and Meyer; Vickie Harris, Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

Debbie Haswell, Mastercraft Engineering; Marilyn Krawulski, Deering Agency; Margaret Maier, Belleville Animal Hospital. Beverly Muse, General Motors Corp.; Maire Poet, Rawsonville, West Willow Library and Material Center; Kathleen Rork, Dr. Thomas Troxell; Sharon Scheffler, General Motors Corp.; and Karen Shumbera, Haggerty, Elwell Library and Material Center.

THERE ARE many benefits connected with a program of this sort. The student receives meaningful, practical job training; he gains general and specific information about the work from his related class, he receives high school credit, and he earns a salary.

The employer has the advantage of getting a reliable employee who is interested in learning; he can work hand-in-hand with the school to improve employee weaknesses; and he has the satisfaction of knowing that he is making a real contribution to his community and to the young people of today.

CALLING THE GRADUATES---Miss Jane Allen and one of her classmates of the 1969 graduation class at Romulus High School call off the names of this year's graduation class to come forward and receive their graduation certificates, the goal of four years of work and study. The class had 204 seniors.

Flying World Readers Take to the Sky

ALL ABOARD—There was no lagging as eager flying buffs wasted no time to board their flights after takeoff announcements over the PA.

OVER SEVEN HUNDRED readers of Associated Newspapers "Flying World" column, written by Bill Balogh, took to the air this past Saturday and officially became part of the flying world.

The event was the Second Annual Air Education Flight staged by ANP for its readers with cooperation of North Central Airlines. Flights commenced at noon and continued until dark. By the time the last landing was made, over 700 earthlings from Belleville, Wayne, Garden City, Inkster, Westland, Livonia, Detroit, Dearborn, Southgate, Allen Park, Plymouth, Utica, Canada, Monroe, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Trenton, Wyandotte and Romulus had joined the flying world on a flight in a real airliner.

Captain Warren Branscomb kept the spellbound air riders peering out windows as he informed them of points of interest over the public address system. Captain Branscomb is also a reader of Flying World, making his home in Belleville. Co-pilot for the day was First Officer Tony Smokovtiz.

The flights were made in a Convair 580 prop-jet airliner and flown at a special level so all could see Western Wayne County and the magnitude of Detroit without any discomfort. Family groups numbering from five to 17 were a common sight as passengers embarked every 45 minutes throughout the day.

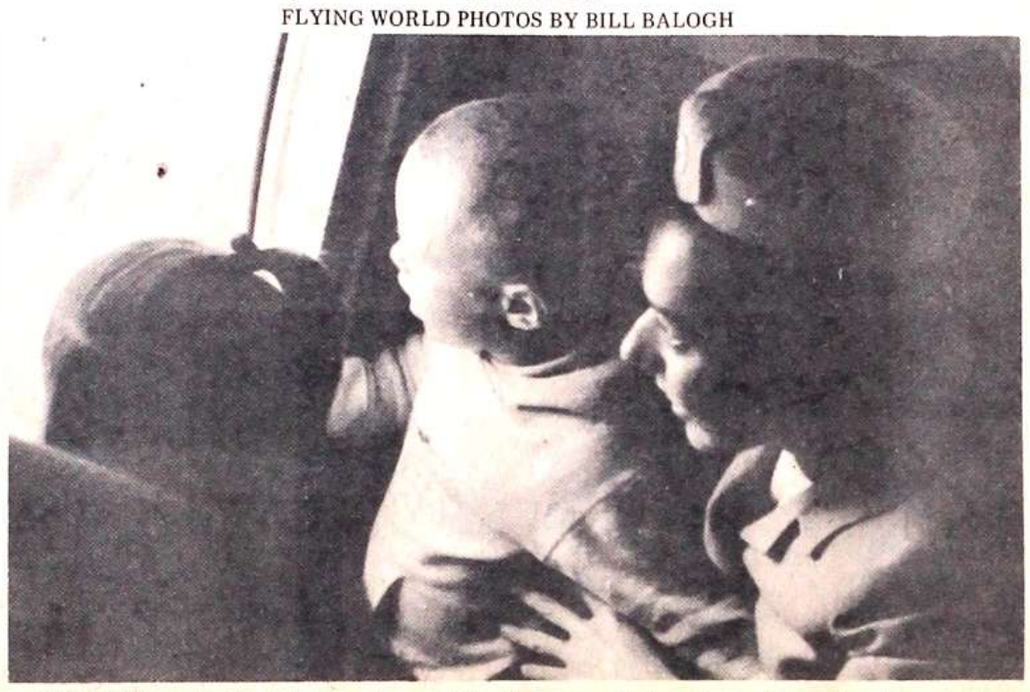

FLYING WORLD PHOTOS BY BILL BALOGH

WESTLAND HO!-North Central Manager, Dick Mendell, a Westland resident, quarterbacks his home town group aboard the Convair Prop Jet Airliner.

LOOK, IT'S OUR SCHOOL!—Garden City East High students, Bob Gromek and Glenn Smitly, see Garden City and the school from a new perspective.

THE WORLD BELOW—It's a wonder world for three-year-old Joe Allen as Stewardess Donna Roberts shows him his world from a different view. Joe was ready to fly again.

LOOKS SO DIFFERENT—Detroit was a gigantic maze as Adam Brownlee and Granddaughter Maureen looked for familiar landmarks below.

GARDEN CITY FLYERS—Miss Erna Todd and Mrs. Connie Edwards, carrying little four-year-old Ranae, came back from their flight thrilled and beaming.

HAPPY HIGH FLYERS—No unhappy faces here as one of the typical groups cruises over Detroit at 2,300-feet.

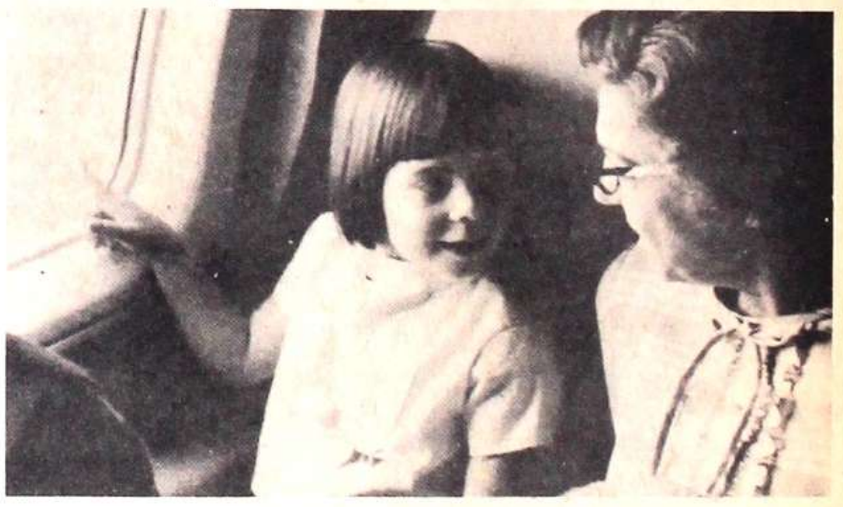

I'M A STEWARDESS, TOO—Five-year-old Cheryl proudly shows her Stewardess wings to mother, Mrs. Kathleen Shotka. They live in Wayne.

FAMILY OF FLYERS—The Allen family turned out full force for their first ride. Brenda, Cheri, Virginia, Mable, Joe and Mrs. Helen Allen are from Inkster.

EAGLE FLIES HIGH—Captain Warren Branscomb was the pilot of all flights. His commentary over the PA system kept passengers informed. Captain Branscomb lives in Belleville.

LIKE TINY DOLL HOUSES—Five-year-old Carol Sharroun of Westland is awed by the thousands of homes that look like play houses to her.

NO WEATHER CARES—The early rains did not dampen the spirits of the air riders. The air was smooth and visibility was good, and everyone had a great time.

CENTENNIAL PLUG—Lani Stacks, North Central stewardess, who lives in Wayne, beat the drums for the home town centennial now in progress.

BELLEVILLE SKY RIDERS—There were 17 passengers in this group when The Tony Talaga and Bill Bowles families combined from Belleville for a flight. Captain Branscomb personally welcomed the group aboard.

HIT THE DIRT—Twenty-five landings and takeoffs were made by this Boeing 737 Twinjet for final FAA certification which will enable them to operate from unimproved airfields, bringing jet service to smaller cities where there no hard-surfaced runways.

Jets Can Now Operate From Gravel Runways

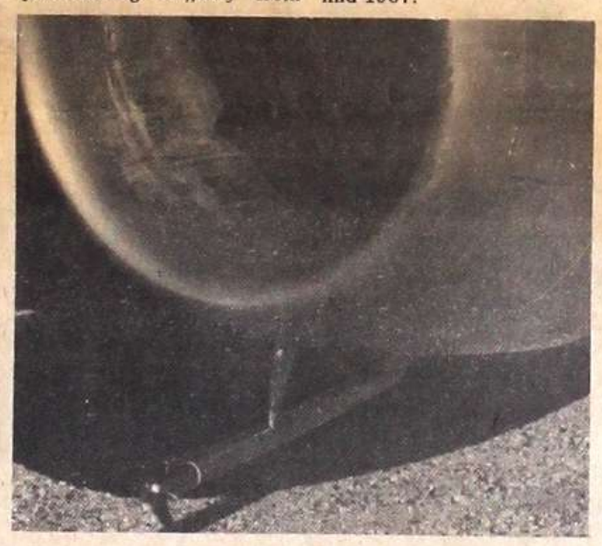

The Boeing Airplane Company has obtained U.S. Federal Aviation Administration certification to operate the Boeing 737 twinjet commercial airliner out of unpaved or gravel runways. Certification followed research, design, development and many proving flights.

Four airlines have already ordered the optional gravel field equipment. All will use unimproved fields serving population centers across northern North America.

Eight items are included in the unimproved field kit, as stipulated by the FAA. They include a vortex dissipator, a gravel deflection "ski" on the nose wheel, deflectors between the main landing gear wheels and protective shields over hydraulic tubing on the main landing gear under each engine's lower leading edge. The boom is capped by a plug containing downward facing orifices. Pressurized air from the engines is forced through the orifices at the ground in front of the engines. The air blast then destroys ground level vortex, or air current, which could lift small bits of gravel from the runway into the engine.

The deflection "ski" on the nose wheel, and the deflectors between the main gear wheels, both serve to hold down pieces of gravel stirred up by the aircraft wheels. The shields over the main landing gear struts prevent damage to the important hydraulic lines. The reinforced covering on the flaps and underside painting protect those areas.

These exact requirements were determined by studies into possible airframe damage when operating 737 twinjet aircraft out of unimproved fields. Additional information, especially concerning gravel spray patterns, was provided by records from the gravel certification program for the Boeing 727 trijet. Some 727's have been operating out of gravel airfields since mid-1967.

VORTEX DISSIPATOR—This extends forward from the lower leading edge of each engine. Pressurized air aimed downward destroys air currents which could lift small bits of gravel into the jet engines, causing serious damage.

The 737 tests were conducted in Seattle and Moses Lake in Washington; Ft. Yukon and Kotzebe, Alaska; Lake Havasu City, Airzona. Final proving tests and FAA certification tests were carried out at the Lake Havasu City's secondary runway. Taxi tests and 25 landing and takeoffs from gravel runways were required for certification.

Through the final tests the only adverse effects noted involved slight additional tire wear.

Operationally, because the thrust reversers tend to spray gravel forward and into the path of the engine inlets, thrust reversers will not be used on gravel fields. This will not affect the Federal air regulations dealing with stopping distances for aircraft. Those figures are based on the wheel-breaking ability of the airplane and do not reflect the help from auxiliary devices.

Certification of the Boeing 737 twinjet for unimproved runway operations could open a whole new commercial aviation era in Alaska and Canada, bringing modern jet service to communities without hard-surfaced runways.

LUFTHANSA WILL DEBUT 747--When the first giant Boeing 747 jumbojet in Europe goes into service next year, it will be flying the flag of Germany. Lufthansa German Airlines will be the first airline outside of the United States to take delivery of the mammoth new jet airliner. One of the first major routes of the jumbojet under German colors is expected to be from Germany to New York. The new sky giant can be made to seat from 340 to 490 passengers.

Delta Improves Air Service

Delta Air Lines will inaugurate first non-stop round trip service between Detroit, New Orleans and Houston. The new service, a part of Delta's early summer schedules, is effective June 15, 1969.

A.W. Moreau, Delta's District director of traffic and sales, called Michigan "a tourist area gaining in national recognition. The new flights from New Orleans and Houston," he said, "will be of major interest to Southerners in search of 'unexplored' vacation areas."

Moreau said that Delta, in an effort to further improve its schedules in Detroit, asked the Civil Aeronatucs Board for non-stop authority to operate between Detroit and Dallas. He pointed to the airline's historical interest in the route and said, "Delta, rather than a substitute airline, should be granted the route."

Supersonic Transport Completes 3rd Flight

The British Aircraft Corporation-built Concorde Supersonic Transport "002" has successfully completed its third flight, a 46-minute trip during which the landing gear was successfully retracted and extended, and the "droop nose" raised.

The aircraft reached 15,000 feet. A total of nine flights have now been completed in the Concorde program, the other six have been flown by Concorde "001," the French built SST.

Tests have already included "one engine out," and the "flight envelope" (allowable) has been increased to near sonic speeds and 30,000 feet.

The engines have operated with "complete satisfaction," and in the low subsonic speeds, the aircraft showed "outstandingly good flight characteristics, with particular note being made to its ease of maneuverability on the ground, stability, efficiency and accuracy of flight controls.

It acted with good behavior while taking off and landing." French and British engineers are reportedly "excited about the progress of their prototype airplanes."

Soviet Airline Flies to Record

Aeroflot, the Soviet Flag airline, expects to carry 300,000 passengers a day (24 hours) this summer. It reports a record 60.8 million passengers carried in 1968.

The airline, which says it's the world's largest, now connects 3,500 towns and villages in Russia and engages in all types of aviation including forestry and ambulance servie.

'Crucial' For U.S. to Go to Moon

Even as crew members of Apollo II lunar landing mission busily prepare for their upcoming summer space odessey, the American people are being forced by present and impending events to carefully consider the future of the U.S. in space.

"There must be a clear understanding of the crucial necessity for us being there." one official said. "There is just no way to describe the importance of the space program to national survival. We are on the threshold of something almost beyond imagination. We have got to be there. If we lose there, are conquered there, we could lose national identity.

Mars Landing Eyed for 1982

The Science and Technology Advisory Committee For Manned Space Flight has recommended to its parent body, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, that the United States push its manned space program toward a Mars landing by 1982.

The group strongly recommended also that the U.S. concentrate on extensive exploration and manned colonization of the moon, manned exploration of Mars, and broad use of earth orbiting stations to enhance the application of earth resources, meterology, and soal and stellar observations.

Connie's mom, Mrs. Robert Cook, had a whole roster of new and interesting games prepared for the party with lots of exciting prizes for the winners (including hand-fashioned headbands.)

The birthday luncheon menu included hot dogs, potato chips, candy, punch, cake, and ice cream. The guest of honor then opened her presents for the group to o-o-h and ah over.

GOLD MEDAL WINNERS

THERE ARE three more awards to add to the collection already on diplay at the Fred Bonanni home on Wilmot road. Their accordion-playing trio, Sharon, Diane, and Linda, recently learned the results of their performances at the Annual Modern Accordion Studio Festival, a two-day program held at the Dearborn Youth Center.

The girls received their gold medal honors for "Violin Concerto in D-Minor" by Mendelssohn, played by 13-year old Sharon; "Vivo" by John Gart, by Diane, who's 11; and "Scherzo" also by Gart, by eight-year old Linda.

The girls also participated in the festival's grand finale, an eight-band concert. Guest performer was television accordionist Myron Floran of the Lawrence Welk Show who entertained with a 45-minute musicale.

GRADS FETED

BELLEVILLE'S CLASS of '69 received diplomas last Wednesday evening at Bowen Field House on the campus of Eastern Michigan University. Graduation parties were on social calendars in the area prior to the big night, following commencement, and over the past week-end, with still more to come this Saturday and Sunday.

INVITATIONS FOR Sunday, the 15th, were sent by Roy and Janet Stabnau in honor of their daughter, Kathy, who (come next Monday) will be off to Washtenaw Community College to resume her studies.

Open house festivities at the Stabnau's Belleville road home were from three 'til seven with some 150 friends, relatives, and classmates arriving from this area and surrounding cities.

Janet was assisted throughout the afternoon by Ruth Sherman, of Willis; Sue Gowen, Gertrude Harris, and Beverly Bramlett, with her young niece, Sheila Stabnau, presiding at the punch bowl. The class colors of dark blue and powder blue were carried out in the centerpiece of bachelor buttons and carnations.

ANOTHER SUNDAY party was scheduled for five o'clock at the Gerald Williams home on Ayres street for their son, Mark, who graduated with honors from BHS. The dinner party, a family affair, was attended by some 50 guests who traveled from Dearborn, Wayne, Garden City, Ypsilanti, and Belleville for the occasion.

Assisting Mrs. Williams with the buffet arrangements were her mother, Mrs. Lois Anderson, and her daughter-in-law, Janie Williams, both from Ypsilanti. In the evening the group was entertained by Mark and three of his fellow grads--Craig Stabnau, Dave Kingsley, and Harry Hutchison--who played and sang several numbers they've performed in the past for various groups.

At the present time Mark is working for Draw Tite but is planning a trip to California for later this summer. And, in the fall he'll be furthering his education at Michigan State University in E. Lansing.

THE JUSTIN EMERSONS invited guests to their home on Madelon street for an open house following graduation exercises. Their son, Rick, who's planning to pursue a political science major at Michigan State, received congratulations from over 75 friends and relatives. Winner of the National Merit Scholarship (a 'first' for Belleville High), Rick graduated with highest honors.

An arrangement of mums in the class colors was flanked by matching tapers as Marge asked guests to serve themselves at her buffet lunch. Relatives from Flat Rock, Mary Ellen Bodary and Mrs. Andrew Bodary, assisted throughout the evening. Guests attended from Saline, Livonia, New Boston, Flat Rock, Romulus, Ypsilanti, and Belleville.

EASTERN MICHIGAN will list Janet Walters, daughter of the Milton Walters' of Wilson drive, as a freshman come September. Janet, another honors graduate, is interested in studying math but for the present she's doing office work for the O.R.A. at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Sunday Barb and Milt entertained in honor of their daughter with about 40 answering the two 'til seven invitation. Among the relatives enjoying a buffet supper were Janet's uncle and aunt, the Don McCashes, and their family who drove in from Columbus, Ohio.

SPACE BEING a bit tight this week, we'll bring you more on this year's graduates in next Wednesday's column. In the meantime, if you've entertained or been feted, give me a call tomorrow (Thursday)--that's the deadline for society items--at 697-9191. Just ask for 'Lee'.

What do you tell your child about God?

Or, more important, what do you tell yourself about God?

Nothing has greater bearing on your well-being and your child's.

The confidence you have in God's love helps your child feel God's presence. It helps him gain confidence in good. And it creates an atmosphere of harmony, which is so important in any home.

The Bible, books, and periodicals in our Reading Room can help you research and prove for yourself the truth about God and man. And this can bless all the members of your family.
